WAR COUNCIL

AGENDA for Meeting of the War Council at 10:00 AMin Room 3E 912 on 17 May.

1. Reports by the Departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force, and the Chairmen of the Munitions Board, Research and Development Board and Personnel Policy Board on important matters of interest to the National Military Establishment.
2. Unified Armed Forces Security Agency -- Organization of cryptologic activities within the National Military Establishment

Attachment A is a proposed memorandum for the three Secretaries from the Secretary of Defense which comments on the report of the Committee on the Creation of a Unified Armed Forces Security Agency (organized pursuant to action taken in the meeting of the War Council, as reported in item 3 of the Significant Actions of the War Council on 3 August 1948) and which concludes that the communications intelligence and communications security activities of the armed forces, with certain exceptions, should be consolidated.

Attachment B is a proposed memorandum for the Joint Chiefs of Staff on the same subject.

Attachment C is a proposed directive which sets forth the manner in which the consolidation would be effected.

Action Required

Agreement should be sought as to the desirability of the consolidation of these activities in accordance with the terms of the proposed directive (Attachment C).

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Secretary of the Army
The Secretary of the Navy
The Secretary of the Air Force

Subject: Organization of Cryptologic Activities within the National Military Establishment.

In accordance with the War Council decision of 3 August 1948, there was established a Committee on the Creation of a Unified Armed Forces Security Agency with two representatives from each of the three Service departments. The general mandate of this committee was to consider two broad questions:

- a. Should there be created a joint or unified Armed Forces agency for the production of communications intelligence and, if so, what form should it take?
- b. Should there be joint of unified cryptographic security activities of the Army, Navy and Air Force and, if so, what form should they take?

The report of this committee, of which Rear Admiral E. E. Stone, Chief of Naval Communications, was Chairman, was submitted on 30 December 1948.

All members of the committee agreed in principle that there should be full integration of the over-all communications intelligence effort to obtain maximum coverage, minimum duplication, and complete availability of end-products to the three Services and to certain other Governmental agencies as necessary. They further agreed that all three Services should participate in this work under the coordination of an Armed Forces Communications Intelligence Board (AFCIB) and a Director of Joint Operations (DJO) which should be created. All members of the committee did not, however, agree as to

- a. The number of and composition of agencies or organizations to be engaged in communications intelligence work;
- b. The principle upon which the communications intelligence effort is to be divided among them; or
- c. The extent of control versus coordination to be exercised by the Joint authority (AFCIB and DJO)

I have concluded that, in the interests of efficiency and economy, the communication intelligence and communication security activities of the Armed Forces with certain exceptions should be consolidated. Accordingly, I have approved the attached directive which constitutes the basis upon which such a consolidation will be effected. The full support of your Department should result in reducing transitional problems of consolidation to the minimum.

ATTACHMENT C

DIRECTIVEARMED FORCES SECURITY AGENCY (AFSA)

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by the National Security Act of 1947 (Public Law 253, 80th Congress), and in the interest of greater efficiency and economy, there is hereby established within the National Military Establishment, under the direction and control of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a unified cryptologic organization to be known as the Armed Forces Security Agency (hereinafter referred to as "AFSA") which shall have the purpose, composition, authority and responsibilities hereinafter described.

1. Purpose

The Armed Forces Security Agency is established in order to provide for the placing under one authority the conduct of communication intelligence and communication security activities (hereinafter referred to as cryptologic activities) within the National Military Establishment, except those which are to be conducted individually by the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

2. Composition

excluding those which each Service handles for own essential needs

a. The AFSA shall consist of such facilities, units and military and civilian personnel of the armed forces which are or may be used for, or engaged in communication intelligence or communication security activities, ~~including the Headquarters, Army Security Agency (ASA), Arlington, Virginia, the Communications Supplementary Activity (CSAW), Washington, and any comparable organizations of the Air Force, and such other facilities, units and personnel~~ as the Joint Chiefs of Staff may determine as necessary to fulfill the functions herein assigned.

b. A Flag or General Officer of the Army, Navy or Air Force will be appointed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Defense, as Director of the AFSA. His normal tour of duty shall be two years. The directorship shall be rotated among the Services.

c. An Armed Forces Communications Intelligence Advisory Council (AFCLAC) shall be established within the Armed Forces Security Agency. The Council shall consist of the Director of the Armed Forces Security Agency, who shall be chairman thereof, the Army, Navy, and Air Force members of the United States Communications Intelligence Board, and not to exceed one additional member from each of the services to be nominated by the respective Department Secretaries.
